A. ST. LOUIS TRUST CO.

LOCAL CAPITALISTS ORGANIZE ONE WITH A CAPITAL OF $2,500,000.

The Stock Subscribed So That Subscriptions Had to Be Stopped—The Business to Be Done and to Be Taken From the East—A Large Building Talked Of.

There has always been a great deal of complaint in financial circles that St. Louis had no loan and trust company, and from outside financial circles a great deal of surprise has been expressed that, with all its capital and the large number of wealthy men living here, the city had not organized one years ago. Some of the banks have done business of the character which generally goes to a trust company, particularly the Bank of Commerce, the charter of which permits it to do so. In large financial deals, however, such as the Merchants' Bridge Co., electric light, and other new enterprises requiring a large amount of capital and the issue of bonds, it has always been considered necessary to go East to such organizations as the Farmers' Loan and Trust Co. and the Holland Trust Co. of New York. Now, however, there will be no excuse for going away from home. The progress the city has made in the last few years and the many enterprises of magnitude on hand at present have brought the subject prominently before the public, and a number of gentlemen connected with the banks have undertaken the ORGANIZATION OF A COMPANY with a capital of $2,500,000, under the laws of Missouri and now have the papers ready for filing. With this amount of capital and the standing of the gentlemen connected with it, the company will at once take position as one of the prominent trust institutions in the country and will be in position to take outside as well as St. Louis business that now goes to New York, Boston and elsewhere in the East. Prominent among those forming the company are Mr. A. C. Stewart of Stewart & Phillips; John McClure, cashier of the Missouri State Bank; Dan Catlin, Moses Kummer, Capt. John A. Scudder. The company will do a general loan and trust business.

The $2,500,000 capital stock is divided into 25,000 shares of $100 each, and of this $1,250,000 have been subscribed and half paid in, the funds being in the hands of J. C. Van Harnum for the first board of directors. The stock subscribers are as follows:

The expectation is that Mr. West will be made president, and from conversation with several of the directors, Mr. A. C. Stewart will be made secretary and counsel. There will also probably be two vice presidents, and Mr. John T. Davis and Capt. John A. Scudder have been mentioned in this connection.

for which the corporation is organized are to transact all business of every kind that a company can do, and the articles of association completely cover the entire ground, and the various departments of the business will be organized as rapidly as can possibly be done. The corporation is to run fifty years.

There has been talk of the erection of a large trust company building, completely equipped with vaults and modern supplies, and conveniences for the rapid dispatch of the business of such an institution. The management of estates will receive careful attention, and that will be made a great feature of the business. The execution of all sorts of trusts, such as now go to New York, will be undertaken. There has been a great demand felt for an institution of this kind for a long time, and a number of persons have been discussing the organization of such a corporation. In this connection, forces of several that were projected have been centered. They would have been organized shortly, and the fact that the corporation was first brought to a head, and this becoming known all of their interests were harmonized.

was exhibited to take the stock. Mr. Stewart, when asked about this, said the full authority and capital would have been subscribed at once, but the promoters discouraged this for the present, in order to obtain time to give all business departments the proper recognition. A number of those who appear among the incorporators desired to largely increase their subscriptions, and the difficulty met was not to get it taken, but to prevent too much from being taken until some experience was gained. The corporation enables the promoters to just what is demanded by all the various branches of business. Several of the subscriptions were made down at once, and the fact that the subscribers consenting to it to allow others to come in and still leave stock in the treasury to be placed as the future indicates is most desirable.

The organization will greatly facilitate furnishing an opportunity to make longer loans than ordinarily be made by banking institutions, and make it possible to provide for street railways and other like improvements that are now so dependent upon the East. St. Louis as a money market is now nearly on a par with Philadelphia and New York, and this will help to provide a market for corporate stock and investments, and the city will seek the East. This is recognized on the outside, and it is heard of the Philadelphia capitalists who have heard of the city, and a prominent financial man of Dallas, Tex., have applied for large blocks of stock, holding out flattering offers as to the interchange of business and alliances between trust companies in which they are interested, and which would insure all the money that would be needed. It was thought best, however, to confine the stockholders' list at present to St. Louis, as there is so much money here now seeking legitimate investment, it is expected that the company would be able to receive deposits and allow interest on the same, as there is a demand for such business here which can not be met by the banks.

CAN'T SAY WHY.

The Officers Say They Can't Account for Desertions at Jefferson Barracks.

Another Session of the Board Which Is Seeking an Explanation.

Capt. Wallace Admits That He Would Give Handcuffs to a Man for Breach of Discipline, But Can't Give His Authority for Such Action—One Man Was Chained to the Guard-House Door—Some Weak Points in the Administration of Local Military Affairs.

INTEREST in the investigation now under way at Jefferson Barracks is increasing daily. Col. Lawton, the President of the court and Capt. Edstein, the recorder, are evidently determined to get to the bottom of the matter with regard to desertion from the barracks. They want to know why in eleven and a half months, the desertions from Jefferson Barracks amounted to $4 per cent of the enlisted men stationed there, while the desertions during twelve months from David's Island were but 11 per cent of the enlisted men, and the desertions for twelve months from the Columbus Barracks were 30 per cent of the enlistments. When this matter was under consideration in the War Department the revelations of the Post-Dispatch reporter recently appeared.

GIVING SPECIFIC REASONS for the extraordinary large number of desertions from Jefferson Barracks. Here was what the War Department wanted. It gave them a lead they had wished. The Adjutant-General, the General of the army, and the Secretary of War procured files of the Post-Dispatch containing the letters, read them carefully, and on their recommendations the President appointed a Court of Inquiry to investigate the charges. This court was furnished with a file of the Post-Dispatch annotated by the Secretary of War. Yesterday the court examined Capt. Theodore J. Wint, the commandant at the barracks, who denied the existence of any abuses at the barracks, but admitted that he had confined a man in the guard-house for complaining of his dinner, because he did not believe the complaint justified, and at another time he had found the complaint justified and had ordered another dinner prepared.

Capt. Louis H. Rucker, next in rank, was next examined. He admitted that the laundry management had been bad, but claimed it had been remedied. He admitted that the barracks had been furnished with poor quality of clothing, but that was now changed. Capt. Wallace, next in rank, was next examined. He admitted that the laundry management had been bad, but claimed it had been remedied. He admitted that the barracks had been furnished with poor quality of clothing, but that was now changed.

OF THE SEVENTH CAVALRY, now in command of Company B of instruction, was the first witness to-day. He said that he had been confined about 185 men, besides a lieutenant, eight sergeants and four corporals. The recruits remain in the barracks four or five months. The sergeants remain as long as the captain is pleased to keep them. The witnesses told how recruits were received and inducted into the barracks.

The Captain was questioned as to the treatment of recruits. He denied that they were badly treated. He said that he had had one complaint from the kitchen sergeant of bad meat, but the meat was not given the men. The kitchen sergeant had been punished. He said he had never heard of a prisoner being abused. He knew of an insubordinate being punished by being handcuffed to the door, but said that the man was drunk, abusive, and refused to say that he would behave if released. The prisoner's arms were held out on a line with his shoulders, and could not be moved by him.

Capt. Wallace was asked if he had ever had complaints from non-commissioned officers. He said he had had one complaint. A man said he had been kicked by a non-commissioned officer. Capt. Wallace investigated and learned that the non-com. had, in drill, kicked the man's feet in position. He reprimanded the non-com., and told him it must not occur again.

"Are stories purchased for the company verified by the officers?" asked Col. Lawton. "No, sir." "Then you have only the word of your kitchen sergeant that you receive the articles ordered?" "That is all except that I see the articles on the table." "But you have no regular system of checking these articles?" "None."

"You say that sometimes you are absent from your company; how often does that occur?" "It has occurred five times in a year." "Does it ever happen that your Lieutenant is absent?" "It occurred only three weeks ago."

"Then your company was without an officer?" "An officer was assigned to the company." "Does it ever occur that no officer is with the company?" "It has occurred."

"You speak of discipline. What do you mean?" "If a prisoner is drunk and insubordinate I would not hesitate to gag him or tie him up." "What authority have you for that?" "Only custom, and I've seen it done ever since I've been in the army."

"That is all the authority you have?" "Yes." "Could a man be confined in the guard-house without authority of an officer?" "No, sir. The book of the guard-house shows the name of the officer authorizing the arrest."

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The common people of Constantinople are in a state of pleasurable excitement at the promised visit to Constantinople of the German Emperor on his way to Athens to attend the marriage of his sister to the Crown Prince of Greece. The gossip and story-tellers of the bazaars have resuscitated a prophecy that the one armed monarch from a foreign country shall prove a shield, which shall protect Turkey from the grasp of the dreaded Muscovite. The traditional legend has been several times adjusted to suit prevailing circumstances. At the close of the Russo-Turkish war when the English fleet prevented any further advance of the Russian navy, the English Queen was recognized as the ruler whose one good arm—her navy—was successfully interposed to the Russian Turkish dominions. Now in the person of Emperor William they hail a ruler whose immediate assistance was given to the Russian fleet when the English fleet prevented any further advance of the Russian navy.

THE EXECUTIVE and other committees of the late Reunion of Veterans and Sailors met last evening to discuss the arrangements for the occasion. The Concordia band gave them a very pleasant serenade. Capt. Wallace, No. 3, A. of I. S. Workers, will give a ball at the City Park on the evening of the 28th inst.

THE MUSICAL concert to be given by Prof. Julius Kohl, organist of the Indianapolis Cathedral, will, doubtless, draw a large audience. The concert yesterday was paid $10.45 insurance for damages to her property by a recent fire.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE STATE BAR ASSOCIATION: You are cordially invited while in the city to visit the grandest jewelry establishment in the world, corner Broadway and Locust street, and inspect the wonderful collections of Diamonds, Art Goods, Jewels and Silverware.

MEMORANDUM AND JACQUARD JEWELRY CO. THE PEABODY EDUCATION FUND. The Trustees held their Twenty-seventh Annual Meeting To-day.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The trustees of the Peabody Education Fund held their twenty-seventh annual meeting at the Fifth Avenue Hotel to-day. Among the trustees present were: ex-President Cleveland, ex-President Hayes, Robert C. Winthrop, Rev. H. B. Whipple, A. J. Drexel, Dr. Samuel A. Green, Gen. James D. Porter, J. Pierpont Morgan, Hon. W. A. Courtenay, Justice Stephen J. Field, John D. Demarest, Randall L. Gibson, Chief Justice Fuller and J. L. McCurdy. An address was delivered by Bishop Whipple. This was followed by the annual report of the fund. The annual address was made by Mr. Winthrop. A banquet will be held this evening.

Fred Ingalls' Carpets, Stoves and Furniture will please you. 1105 Olive.

A COSTLY MISTAKE. A Man Fined for Turning in a False Alarm. Henry Tumler turned in a false alarm of fire from box 60 at Thirteenth and Pine streets yesterday evening and Judge Cady fined him $100 for his fun in the First District Police Court this morning. Tumler claimed that he had been robbed and thought he was ringing up the police. Judge Cady refused to accept the excuse and the prisoner will work it out.

A Beautiful French. A picture from Heffernan's Central Art Store, 1010 Olive street. Low prices.

ABOUT TOWN. On the 13th of September some unknown person stole from Peter Jordan, 2330 Cass avenue, a shepherd dog with black body and white face.

NATHAN NORMAN, the negro who was stabbed Tuesday on the levee by Green Benoit, is still at the City Hospital in a dangerous condition. The cutting took place on the levee, and not at Mooney's saloon, as at first reported to the police.

THE POLICE are still investigating the case of Victor Julian, arrested a few days ago for fraud at No. 960 Olive street. He is charged with the murder of a man at state prison, who lives at that number, states that he never resided in that house.

A COSTLY MISTAKE. A Man Fined for Turning in a False Alarm. Henry Tumler turned in a false alarm of fire from box 60 at Thirteenth and Pine streets yesterday evening and Judge Cady fined him $100 for his fun in the First District Police Court this morning. Tumler claimed that he had been robbed and thought he was ringing up the police. Judge Cady refused to accept the excuse and the prisoner will work it out.

A Beautiful French. A picture from Heffernan's Central Art Store, 1010 Olive street. Low prices.

ABOUT TOWN. On the 13th of September some unknown person stole from Peter Jordan, 2330 Cass avenue, a shepherd dog with black body and white face.

NATHAN NORMAN, the negro who was stabbed Tuesday on the levee by Green Benoit, is still at the City Hospital in a dangerous condition. The cutting took place on the levee, and not at Mooney's saloon, as at first reported to the police.

THE POLICE are still investigating the case of Victor Julian, arrested a few days ago for fraud at No. 960 Olive street. He is charged with the murder of a man at state prison, who lives at that number, states that he never resided in that house.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The common people of Constantinople are in a state of pleasurable excitement at the promised visit to Constantinople of the German Emperor on his way to Athens to attend the marriage of his sister to the Crown Prince of Greece. The gossip and story-tellers of the bazaars have resuscitated a prophecy that the one armed monarch from a foreign country shall prove a shield, which shall protect Turkey from the grasp of the dreaded Muscovite. The traditional legend has been several times adjusted to suit prevailing circumstances. At the close of the Russo-Turkish war when the English fleet prevented any further advance of the Russian navy, the English Queen was recognized as the ruler whose one good arm—her navy—was successfully interposed to the Russian Turkish dominions. Now in the person of Emperor William they hail a ruler whose immediate assistance was given to the Russian fleet when the English fleet prevented any further advance of the Russian navy.

THE EXECUTIVE and other committees of the late Reunion of Veterans and Sailors met last evening to discuss the arrangements for the occasion. The Concordia band gave them a very pleasant serenade. Capt. Wallace, No. 3, A. of I. S. Workers, will give a ball at the City Park on the evening of the 28th inst.

THE MUSICAL concert to be given by Prof. Julius Kohl, organist of the Indianapolis Cathedral, will, doubtless, draw a large audience. The concert yesterday was paid $10.45 insurance for damages to her property by a recent fire.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE STATE BAR ASSOCIATION: You are cordially invited while in the city to visit the grandest jewelry establishment in the world, corner Broadway and Locust street, and inspect the wonderful collections of Diamonds, Art Goods, Jewels and Silverware.

Earth's Truest Happiness IS AT HOME. And what is health and what is wealth. The lonely alien cries. Without rest for head and breast. Where all our treasure lies. Can be who, wandering o'er the earth, With smiles love to roam. With smiles love to roam. Which call him back to his home. The cost is not of pile or cot. What makes life dear and true. For contentment—not what is spent. Nor how his shadow is cast. But what on gold bestow on man If not a place of mind. A home even on the installment plan. Where love the heart can find. What matters how the money is gained. This home is in your reach. With small expense and common sense. Your choice to guide and cheer. My child's book is full of man. Of those who've found the way. And homeliness the father shapes. Of those who've found the way. So simple this a child can't miss. The path to ease and peace. Each line about, each word, each thought. That leads on more increase. This worthy end is attainable. Before you know it you are all—The treasure home is gained.

INDIAN CONVICTS.
A Desperate Company on Its Way to Columbus, O.

A motley company of bleached Indians, white men and one colored woman, chained and guarded, arrived at the Union Depot this morning over the St. Louis & San Francisco from Fort Smith. They were convicts on their way to the Ohio State Penitentiary at Columbus. They had committed offenses against the person and property in the Indian Territory, and were convicted in the United States District Court at Fort Smith. The list was as follows:
Kit Carson, a Chippewa Indian, convicted of larceny and sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.
Henry Pitts, larceny, five years.
John Lacey, a Creek, murder, 10 years.
James Price, larceny, three years.
Wiley Steel, murder, 10 years.
John M. Treadwell, larceny, 1 year.
Charles Underwood, larceny, 1 year.
Joe Tuley, a Creek, murder, 10 years.
Wassenaar, a Creek, murder, 10 years.
Ed Fulson, Cherokee, assault, four years.
Zeke Still, Cherokee, larceny, one year.
Matt Downing, larceny, three years.
John White, assault, two and one-half years.
Elias Morrison, colored, assault, two years.
Mico Hutka, a Creek, selling whisky in the Territory, two years.
B. Brunner, murder, ten years.
Tom French, larceny, one year.

This delegation was conducted by Wm. Wehrlich, a St. Louis passenger agent, and was in charge of the Fort Smith Jail, W. R. Fape, and four guards. The Columbus penitentiary is the place selected by the Federal authorities for the confinement of Indian Territory offenders, because it is less to the Government to receive in their journey through the country some idea of the benefits of civilization.
All of the men are known as "hard cases" in the Territory. The murderers are desperate men, but none of them have long lists of slain in their past.

GOOD HUNTING AT BENTON PARK.

People Objecting to the Park-keepers Shooting Dogs and Cats.

The citizens in the southern part of the city are kicking about the park-keeper making a private hunting-ground of Benton Park and shooting over his preserves without regard of the interests or safety of the park, who may occasionally wander into the happy hunting-grounds during shooting hours.

Benton Park is supposed to be a public park for the pleasure and amusement of all, but it seems from the accounts which are being given that the park-keeper, who is a man named John Noonan, has taken it upon him to make it a private hunting-ground for himself and his friends.

Western game are hunted to death in and out of season by the park-keeper, who, like Jesse James, uses a revolver in his work of destruction. The citizens do not complain of the shooting, but they have little confidence in the park-keeper's motives. They are afraid of him, and are afraid of being shot.

The Mayor received the following letter this morning on the subject:
The park-keeper of Benton Park, Arsenal street and Jefferson avenue, has the habit of shooting with a revolver at dogs and cats in the park. There are lots of pedestrians on the walks. As he shoots low it is not safe. Yesterday he shot a cat and a dog. Please stop the shooting or some one is injured.

The Mayor referred the letter to Park Commissioner Klemm for investigation.
